Spots on the Sun

Sunspots look small on the Sun because of their distance. They are huge explosions called solar flares. Hot gases are spat away from the Sun like space sauce. This creates black material on the Sun and in space. Explore the next picture and locate the sunspots on the Sun.